

LAW LIBRARY COVID-19 CLOSURE

In response to COVID-19, a measure being taken to protect the health and safety of Scott County employees and our residents is that Scott County buildings will be closed to the public from March 17th until at least May 3rd.

The Law Library is still offering many of our usual services, including:

General Legal Reference and Customer Service – All phone calls will be answered during normal business hours per usual. Those who walk-in will find the physical space closed. All customers are encouraged to call to get their questions answered. While the courts are still open, the Law Librarian will continue to be available to provide guidance on court procedures. The Law Librarian is also available to explain the Limited Court Service Case Prioritization process.

If you are unsure whether your case has been rescheduled or is still being heard, please contact Court Administration directly at (952) 496-8200.

Legal forms and documents – Anyone is welcome to request forms or documents from the Law Library. The Law Librarian can help customers navigate the Minnesota Judicial Branch (MJB) website via phone. If the requested form is one the MJB does not publish, the Law Librarian can send it via email. If the customer does not have the ability to print, documents can also be sent via mail.

Westlaw – If customers need information from Westlaw, the Law Librarian still has remote access and can send .PDFs of materials via email or printed copies via mail.

Legal Clinics – These are still occurring, but are by appointment only and will be conducted via phone.

Ask a Law Librarian – This service, which can be found on the Law Library website at www.scottlib.org/law, will continue to operate as usual.

The Law Library will NOT be providing its usual copying and printing services. The following resources can be used as an alternative.
